

The Period of PURPLE Crying®

a program of the

National Center on Shaken Baby Syndrome

Program Overview

The Period of PURPLE Crying program is an evidence-based shaken baby syndrome/abusive head trauma (SBS/AHT) prevention program developed by the National Center on Shaken Baby Syndrome. The program has two aims:

1. To support caregivers in their understanding of early increased infant crying
2. To reduce the incidence of SBS/AHT

The Period of PURPLE Crying program takes a normal child development approach by helping parents and caregivers understand the frustrating features of crying in normal infants that can lead to shaking or abuse. The program provides the opportunity for parents to learn about the crying characteristics from over 60 years of research on normal infant crying conducted by Ronald G. Barr, MDCM, FRCPC, and other scientists worldwide.

The Letters in PURPLE Stand for

The word Period means that the crying has a beginning and an end.

Three Dose Model

To ensure that all parents and temporary caregivers receive and understand the Period of PURPLE Crying program messages, the program envisions a “three Dose” exposure. The program includes resources for each of the three Doses whether your organization will do one Dose, two, or all three. In many cases, prevention partnerships across organizations and jurisdictions allow for all three Doses to be implemented.

Dose One: Delivery of the PURPLE Program Materials to Parents

The first “Dose” of the program is the delivery of the intervention materials to parents of all newly born infants via a demonstration of the materials by a trained educator or provider. This would replicate current “best practice” on the basis of available studies. The timing of each Dose delivery depends on several factors; however, the first Dose of the program typically take place within the first two weeks of the baby’s life before the baby’s crying increases.

Dose Two: Reinforcement of the Messages

Dose Two reinforces important messages of the program to parents, such as, “babies can still be healthy and normal even if they cry five hours per day” and “the crying will come to an end.” Reinforcement of the messages often takes place at public and state department of health programs, home visiting, and/or pediatric well-baby visits. Dose Two is a little more flexible in terms of timing than Dose One, generally occurring throughout the first three months following the baby’s birth.

Dose Three: Public Education Campaign Toolkit

Dose Three is a public education campaign. It is important to make sure that all other members of society hear about and understand the Period of PURPLE Crying. The timing for Dose Three is not set to the timing of a baby’s birth. It is dependent upon a jurisdiction or an organization’s capacity to educate the community where Dose One, and ideally Dose Two, is occurring.

Getting Started

There are three steps to get started: 1) register for the complimentary PURPLE program online training, 2) read the Implementation Protocol, and 3) read, sign, and return the Fidelity Agreement.

1) Register for the Online Training

The providers educating and delivering the program to parents need to view the mandatory training lessons to become familiar with the program's lines of evidence, research, and development, and give them the authority and expertise necessary to educate parents.

2) Implementation Protocol

Please read the Implementation Protocol that discusses the ideal processes for distributing the program materials to parents and protecting the fidelity of the program model.

3) Fidelity Agreement

The Fidelity Agreement outlines the training and support that comes with the purchase of the PURPLE program. It also asks that the Dose One delivery organization agrees to provide each family with their own PURPLE program materials to take home and share with anyone else who will be caring for their infant. Please read and sign the Fidelity Agreement.

Incorporating a "Policy"

We strongly encourage our implementing partners to incorporate a policy within their departments to help institutionalize the program should you leave or change positions. The "Example Policy" hosted within the online training module has proven to be helpful in managing drift in delivery, online training access, new-hire orientation, inventory levels, where to find resources, and NCSBS contact information.
